

Remarks

In the office action the Examiner set forth numerous obviousness-type double patenting rejections. Those rejections are deemed moot due to cancellation of the pending claims and new claims presented.

With respect to the prior art rejections, the prior claims have been cancelled and new claims presented. Each of the new claims recites overlapping curing light beams to create footprint of curing light, as well as other patentable elements and limitations. These concepts and the structures that accomplish them were not known in the prior art.

Respectfully submitted this 9th day of January, 2004.
